Wellkeeper, Inc. Appoints Greg Scoggins as Vice President of Sales and Marketing and Announces new Dallas – Fort Worth Office

Dallas, Texas - February 19, 2008 - Wellkeeper, Inc., the leader in affordable remote monitoring solutions for the oil and gas industry, has today announced the appointment of industry veteran Greg W. Scoggins as the new Vice President of Sales and Marketing. Mr. Scoggins came to Wellkeeper from OGRE Systems, where he also served as the Vice President of Sales and Marketing. Previously, Mr. Scoggins was a Vice President at Implicit Monitoring Solutions and Landmark Graphics Corporation, totaling 20 years experience in the oil and gas technology solutions business. Mr. Scoggins has a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering Management from Dallas Baptist University, and is a 27 year member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE).

“Greg brings experience, energy and knowledge of the oil and gas industry to our organization,” said Randy Krall, Chief Executive Officer of Wellkeeper. “We are excited about Greg leading our sales team to expand our presence in the marketplace. Many companies are discovering the benefits of remote monitoring, and Greg is helping us crystallize our message to more effectively reach our target market.”

Krall also announced the opening of the newest Wellkeeper branch office between Dallas and Fort Worth, near DFW Airport. “This new office allows us to more easily serve our clients in North Texas and Oklahoma,” stated Krall. The office will serve as a regional sales office, with Mr. Scoggins leading the staff.
